DESCRIPTION

(Silvia Fasana)

The Chapel dedicated to St. Rocco, patron of the plague victims, has been probably built as ex vow for the lucky escape during the epidemic of 1836. Domenico Gregorio, in his volume about Argegno, quotes that until some times ago it was possible to read the inscription: «Bernarda Nicola benefattore fece l'anno 1840 (The benefactor Bernarda Nicola made in 1840)». In the past it accommodates a statue of the Saint Montpellier, unfortunately stolen and replaced by a modern picture.
